300+ APPS GOAL · 75 AWARDS · R1 · 12 SCHOOLS

Supporting Career Paths

Fox Valley vocational scholarships for Advanced Manufacturing, Health Sciences, and the Building Trades — funded by the JCD Foundation.

What we fund

Tuition, room and board, books and related supplies at community colleges, four-year schools, private vocational schools and other instruction-based programs. Up to 50% of those costs.

Every award is paid directly to the school, never to the student or an employer. A review committee sets each award on the same criteria for every applicant.

Who's eligible

Any senior at one of the twelve qualifying high schools below — or homeschooled in the same area — pursuing a career in advanced manufacturing, health sciences, or the building trades.

No essay. No ethnicity question. No citizenship question. Required: legal name, address, ZIP, transcript, FAFSA, and a career objective. [TK]

30 minutes. You set the agenda.

We're talking with educators, employers, and apprenticeship leads this spring and summer — before our 501(c)(3) determination lands — so the foundation we're building fits the careers our students are actually walking into.

01 Pick a time
Reply to the email, call the number on the card, or grab a slot on the calendar.

02 We show up
In person, by phone, or Zoom. Your call. A voice memo works too.

03 You talk
About students, the field, what works, what doesn't. We mostly listen.

04 You review
Anything we publish from the conversation goes through you first.
